Accessing Investigation Data

To access investigation data in the CSSI DCC portal, the prerequisites are as follows:

- URL or web address. The URL might be from the Browse page, the Search page, an email message, or a browser bookmark. The URL for a specific version of an investigation remains the same over time. (For information on the Browse or Search pages, refer to Browsing Investigations or Searching Investigation Data.)
- Permission to view the data. When a user uploads an investigation to the CSSI DCC portal, that user specifies who can access the investigation data. For details, refer to Controlling Access to Investigation Data.

If you are unable to find the data for an investigation, consider the following points:

- A typo might have been introduced in your copy of the URL.
- The investigation embargo date might still be in the future.
- The user who uploaded the data might not have made it open access yet or might not have given you permission to view it.
- The investigation might have been deleted.
