

Wiki Space First Level Topic Example One

This page represents a large, key topic in the wiki space.

There could be many child pages below the first level topic pages, each child page gathering other pages on another large topic.

A page like this often says only "This page family includes the following pages" followed by a Page Tree macro or the Children Display macro listing the pages gathered. For a comparison of Page Tree and Children Display macros, refer to Putting a List of Child Pages on a Page. Continue to Wiki Space First Level Topic Example Two for a demonstration.