Are You New to caArray?

Welcome to caArray. The topics listed on this page are intended to get you started in caArray.

Are you interested in uploading data to caArray?

Workflow for uploading data automatically by importing MAGE-TAB files

Workflow for uploading data by entering annotation data in caArray manually

For more information, see Creating an Experiment.

Are you interested in browsing caArray?

See Browsing caArray Data in the caArray User's Guide.

Are you interested in performing a search of caArray data?

See Searching caArray Data in the caArray User's Guide.

Are you interested in learning how data entities in caArray correlate to the real-world laboratory entities they represent?

See Mapping between Major Concepts in caArray and Real-World Concepts.

Are you interested in learning more about caArray?

See About caArray in the caArray User's Guide.

These are initial tasks that you may wish to perform as you become acquainted with caArray. You will find more comprehensive material for working in caArray in the caArray User's Guide as well as on the caArray wiki pages.